Overview

Unique and powerful PC based lighting control system.

LightFactory is designed to allow any lighting engineer, operator or designer to purchase an affordable, extremely reliable lighting controller which they can become completely familiar with and that works in every situation.

Its portability and familiar user interface make it perfect for use on a Laptop PC. The system is fully expandable, giving an upgrade path from a single DMX universe up to 100 universes as your system grows. Support for LED fixtures, moving heads and generic dimmers is built in and fixtures can be combined to create matrices which can be mapped to video, still images or motion paths.

LightFactory ships with all you need; a CD with software, a USB dongle to allow DMX transmission and a licence. Set up is simple, turning any modern PC into a powerful lighting console.
